- The Goodman Building is a new addition at the S.C. State Fairgrounds. The facility was constructed adjacent to the Cantey Building to provide maximum exhibit space and ease of accessibility for patrons and vendors.
- Connecting the two buildings is a covered walkway and central tower that leads to a new twin canopy entrance to the two buildings.
- Two internal walkways also connect the Goodman & Cantey Buildings to offer a 70,000 SF exhibit space; these walkways serve the additional purpose of concealing a usable and easily accessible mechanical yard between the two buildings.
- This project also included demolition of the old Rosewood Entrance in front of the Rocket and Hampton Building to provide room for two new ticket booths and a multi-use courtyard.
